Jean Corbi Ciappa joins Crystal Run Village, Inc.

Middletown – Crystal Run Village, a non-profit provider of community-based programs for adults and children with intellectual and psychological disabilities has hired Jean Corbi Ciappa in the newly created senior management position of associate executive director of program development. She will be responsible for planning, resource development and the systemic organizational design of new services for the integration and empowerment of people with disabilities living in Orange, Rockland and Sullivan Counties.

Corbi Ciappa recently retired from 32 years with the New York State Office of Developmental Disabilities and Mental Retardation where in a variety of management positions she influenced the quality of care and delivery of services to people with disabilities and their families.

Corbi Ciappa holds a B.A. in Psychology from CUNY Lehman College in the Bronx and has further study in rehabilitation counseling, health care administration, and financial management for the non-profit provider. She is a past member of the Board of Directors at the Warwick Day Care Center, Warwick NY, and was active in the establishment of the district's Park Avenue Elementary School before-and-after-school program. She also assisted in a support role with coaching little league and soccer. She is a member of the Orange County Bike Club and a participant in their annual fundraiser Country Roads Bike Tour. Corbi Ciappa and her husband of 30 years, Harold Ciappa, have 2 children.

Crystal Run Village, Inc. with an operating budget of approximately $37-million and more than 800 staff provides disability support services in the form of housing, programs for learning and self expression, opportunities for employment, community inclusion and recreation - all for the purpose of an individual's greater independence and contribution as a citizen. The human services agency has been headquartered in Middletown since 1959.
